MEMORANDUM

TO: BELLINGHAM PARKS AND RECREATION ADVISORY BOARD
FROM: GINA AUSTIN
CC: LAINE POTTER; NICOLE OLIVER
SUBJECT: CORNWALL BEACH PARK NAME & FINAL DESIGN APPROVAL
DATE: AUGUST 29, 2022

Staff will present a final design overview, including incorporation of park design standard benches, light poles, and signage. Staff is also requesting a name recommendation from the Board in accordance with city policy PAR 1.00.01.

The 17-acre site commonly referred to as “Cornwall Beach Park” was master planned in 2014. Phase 1 engineering and permitting is underway, which includes design and installation of a new entrance sign featuring the new park name.

Phase 1 work is focused on underground utilities, parking, beach creation, trails, and other park amenities. Work has been coordinated with two overlapping cleanup actions: Cornwall Landfill and RG Haley cleanup sites.

Staff solicited names from the public in accordance with City Policy PAR 1.00.01. The public process was launched on social media and through the City’s Engage Bellingham website. Projects published on the Engage Bellingham are sent to local media, interested parties, neighborhood associations, boards, commissions, and others. Names were solicited from March 7 through April 29, 2022. Staff also reached out to the Nooksack and Lummi Nations in May of 2022.

All name suggestions are included in the attached Engage Bellingham project report. Over 5,000 individuals visited the project webpage, and over 500 idea submissions were received.

The top 10 name suggestions are as follows:

1. Lhaq'temish or Lhaq'temish Park (Lummi Park)
2. Glass Beach Park or Glass Beach or Glass Beach Preserve
3. Slug Beach or Slug Zone Beach
4. X'wótoqwem (Whatcom) Beach
5. Sea Glass Beach
6. Tokitae Park or Tokitae Memorial Park
7. Discount Gas/Milk Beach
8. Cornwall Cove

9. Sea Glass Cove
10. Salish Sea Heritage Park

The top 10 list excludes the name suggestion "Beachy McBeach Face" and similar variations of that name. The number 1 name idea is for local tribal nations to name the park.

This is the second time staff have solicited names for this park. In 2014, when the park master plan was finalized, staff solicited names over a period of several months at public meetings, in the Parks Administration Office, via email, and an online survey. Over 300 name suggestions were submitted at that time. The previous list of names was discussed and considered at the March 2014 Park Board meeting. During the following meeting in April 2014, board members agreed to carefully study the list of names and continue their outreach to members of the public, including the Lummi Nation. At the May 2014 Park Board meeting, members narrowed the list to the 5 top names: Bayside Park, Island View Park, Klipsun Park, Salish Sea Park, Waterfront Park, and Wharf Park.

Later in 2014, The Bellingham Parks and Recreation Advisory Board recommended that City Council adopt the name "Klipsun Park" as the official name. The word "Klipsun" may be derived from the Lummi language and may be translated to mean "beautiful sunset." Board members felt that this name acknowledged the cultural significance of the park and the natural beauty to behold there. However, the 2014 naming process did not move forward after this recommendation and the name was not accepted city.

1. Parking Naming Policy

Naming of Parks, Recreation Areas and Facilities

Reference Number PAR 01.00.01

Purpose

To establish requirements for naming or renaming of parks and recreational facilities.

Scope

This policy applies to all park facilities.

Definitions

City - City of Bellingham Parks and Recreation Department

Park Board - is the City of Bellingham Parks and Recreation Advisory Board

Park, Facility or Park Facility - includes all City of Bellingham Parks and Recreation Department managed buildings, shelters, gazebos, amphitheater, open space areas, trails, game fields, stadiums, courts, land or other areas.

Park Name - is the name of a park facility used in print, signs, Bellingham Municipal Code, electronic media, and any other official document of the City of Bellingham.

Policy/Conditions

1. City sets rules for park names

Parks shall not be named after a living person.

Duplication of park names shall be avoided.

Parks shall not be named after a deceased person or significant event unless there has been a lapse of at least ten years after the event occurred or person's deceased date.

Renaming of Parks shall follow the same process set forth in this policy.

2. Park Director or designee facilitates the public process for naming all parks

Park Director or designee solicits names from the general public by issuing a press release, posting a public sign at the Facility, or conducting a public meeting. City staff may also provide suggestions for park name.

Park Director or designee records all names and forwards to the Park Board for final recommendation.

3. Park Board recommends park name

Park Board considers all name suggestions received up to the time of voting. Park Board may also provide suggestions.

Park Board votes on the names. The name selected by majority is forwarded to City Council for final action.

4. City Council approves park name

City Council reviews recommendation by Park Board and approves the final park name.

5. City allows variation of park names

Approved park names may be abbreviated or varied if approved by the Park Director or designee.

Examples:

Little Squalicum Park: Little Squalicum, LSP, Little Squalicum Beach

Boulevard: Boulevard Park, Boulevard, Boulevard Park Upper, Boulevard Park Lower

6. City provides exceptions to this policy

Exceptions to this policy may include:

- Naming a facility after a living person, recently deceased person, or important event if that person has provided a significant donation or service to the city
- Naming a facility as a condition of accepting a donation
- Temporary names may be used for referencing a facility until a permanent name is selected and approved per this policy

10 March 22 Sean Mulcahy	Lhaq 'temish
VOTES 69	This is an opportunity for Bellingham to recognize the ancestral homelands of it's native people. The park could be named after and in consultation with the local Lummi and Nooksack tribes.
10 March 22 LandBack	Lhaq'temish Park
VOTES 63	Indigenous names for places are often erased -- if we are going to give this place an official name, we should honor the land's stewards since time immemorial
10 March 22 Ktkrew	Horizon Lines Park
VOTES 8	Who remembers the boat??
10 March 22 LC	Sea Glass Cove
VOTES 17
10 March 22 Robin Thomas	Tokitae Park
VOTES 18	Tokitae is the name given to the captured Orca that has been held at the Miami Seaquarium for 40 years. The name is a coast Salish greeting meaning Nice day, pretty colors. The Lummi people have been working for long decades to return our Orca to the Salish Sea. If she is not returned, the park might be called Tokitae Memorial Park.
10 March 22 Tree	Glass Beach
VOTES 36	I'm a newcomer to Bellingham. Folks from these parts always called it Glass Beach when describing this place.

10 March 22 Janice Carmichael	North Salish Sea Park
VOTES 6	Positioned at the north end of the Salish Sea, this is the perfect opportunity to name a park after the Salish Sea giving users an geological association/location to the park as well as recognizing this new, historical name of the sea.
10 March 22 bartonizer	Glass Beach Park
VOTES 29	As others have mentioned, this is what everyone has referred to it as- and I don't think it's a bad name. Why not keep it simple?
10 March 22 N.E.Body	17 Acre Park
VOTES 5	I mean, it's 17 acres...
10 March 22 Ceebs	Resting Beach Face Park
VOTES 35	It's a great place to rest, no matter your socioeconomic class. And it faces the bay.
10 March 22 Mbot	Eventide Park

VOTES 10	Its north of miami so it makes sense
10 March 22 Frank Youngblood	Youngblood Park
VOTES 3	Sounds cool, and it's my last name.
10 March 22 Mike McAuley	Glass Beach
VOTES 23	While it's tempting to name this (eventually) new park something with an honorific, I too , support Glass Beach. As a permanent reminder that the park is a cap on a landfill, the tide flat is long buried, the native people's uses forever a memory, our impact shouldn't be glossed over.....Glass Beach, please.
10 March 22 HaleyM	Glass Beach Park
VOTES 17
10 March 22 ForestRidge	Glass Beach
VOTES 27	Another vote to keep its original name. Could build off of this by incorporating glass sculptures or mosaics into the park layout/design/signage.
10 March 22 Mia	Affordable Housing Beach
VOTES 8	To commemorate the plentiful affordable housing in Whatcom County, and the efficient and effective social services which protect our neighbors and longtime residents from the dangerous conditions of houselessness. Affordable Housing Beach will stand as a testament to every resident of Whatcom County whose housing needs were swiftly and justly met by policies responsive to constituent demands, and property management held accountable to community members. Every visitor to Affordable Housing Beach will remember Whatcom County's superb care for its most vulnerable citizens.

VOTES 9	No reason to change the name it already has (Glass Beach) unless Lummi and/or Nooksack Tribes already had a name for the spot before the city renamed it. It's likely this spot didn't exist before colonization since the shoreline was mostly made up of pristine estuary and nearshore habitat, so perhaps there was no name, but first choice should go to the two Tribes in the Nooksack watershed.

12 March 22	SMain	Restoration Point
	VOTES 2	This stunning waterfront site has a dubious history colored by the shortsighted mismanagement of its English-speaking pioneers. Over time it has hosted some of the worst environmental and humanitarian abuses of this region. (Most recently, dumping wood-treatment chemicals into the ground - after serving for decades as the local landfill - after the wholesale lumber milling operation had run its course - which mill briefly employed Sikh peoples until the "Hindu Riots" of 1907 had them running for their lives.) The new park should acknowledge those mistakes, but also stand as a symbol of our intentions now: to reconcile our relationships, to restore our natural habitat, and to take a more conscientious approach moving forward. Let's call the park "Restoration Point," but let's not use the English language. I wonder if there is a word in the Lummi or Nooksack or P unjabi language(s) that would convey the idea of healing.
12 March 22	Veggiechef82	The People of the Seas' Park / People of the Sea Park / Lhaq'temish Park
	VOTES 4	I think it's important to remember who the people of this land are and name places in the city to include them in new developments. In Chile we name streets and places are the city using words from the Mapuche tribe. It helps remind us of the history of the place. I think people living in Bellingham would support this especially as we continue to grow.
12 March 22	KJD	Industry Bay
	VOTES 2	Since it was the site for Industry and many Bellinghamsters made a good living from it.

13 March 22 lihuedon	Cornwall Beach Park
VOTES 4	It's descriptive, simple and memorable.
13 March 22 Douglas Alan Clark	Totem Park
VOTES 0	This area is well known for it's native totem poles but there are very few around. Decorate the park with them and celebrate the ancestry.
13 March 22 Teresa Scott	Jewel Park
VOTES 1	Because Bellingham is "The jewel of the northwest", how about Jewel Park
13 March 22 Hefe	Salish Landing Park
VOTES 6	As a Lummi Indian myself, I appreciate the nod to indigenous culture, but I think it should be something easy to pronounce. Lhaq' te' mish is a nice idea, but if it's going to cause confusion and mispronunciation, that doesn't exactly honor Salish culture in a dignified way. "Landing" usually refers to a place of a historical landing site, such as Ebey's Landing on Whidbey Island. But I think it could be an opportunity to mark it as a new place of gathering and arrival of all peoples together in this new and premier recreation amenity as a regional landmark. Consider the real estate: this park should be as big a deal as Alkai Beach in Seattle!

19 April 22 Jan P Dank	Mamosee Park The Mamosee were a Coast Salish people whose lands were between that of the Lummi and the Swinomish. Their villages were in What is now Fairhaven and Chuckanut Bay. Two of the last four members were said to be adopted into the Lummi Nation, the other two have their fate unknown. It is likely that disease brought by white American settlers was what wiped out the rest. This park would be about the boundary between their Nation and that of the Lummi. It might be a little north but it would still be a fitting way to remember an sadly extinct Coast Salish nation to name this park in their memory and honor (after consultation with the local and not extinct Lummi, Nooksack, and Swinomish, of course)

The master plan was reviewed, and an updated development plan was prepared that incorporates some engineering design.

The development plan includes a layout of all the conceptual master planned elements.

This plan will be developed in multiple phases over several years.

DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Legend - Cleanup Project(s):

- 01 Multi-Use Trail/Access Road
- 02 Shoreline Groin
- 03 Habitat Buffer Planting
- 04 Lawn

Legend - Park Phase 1 Program:

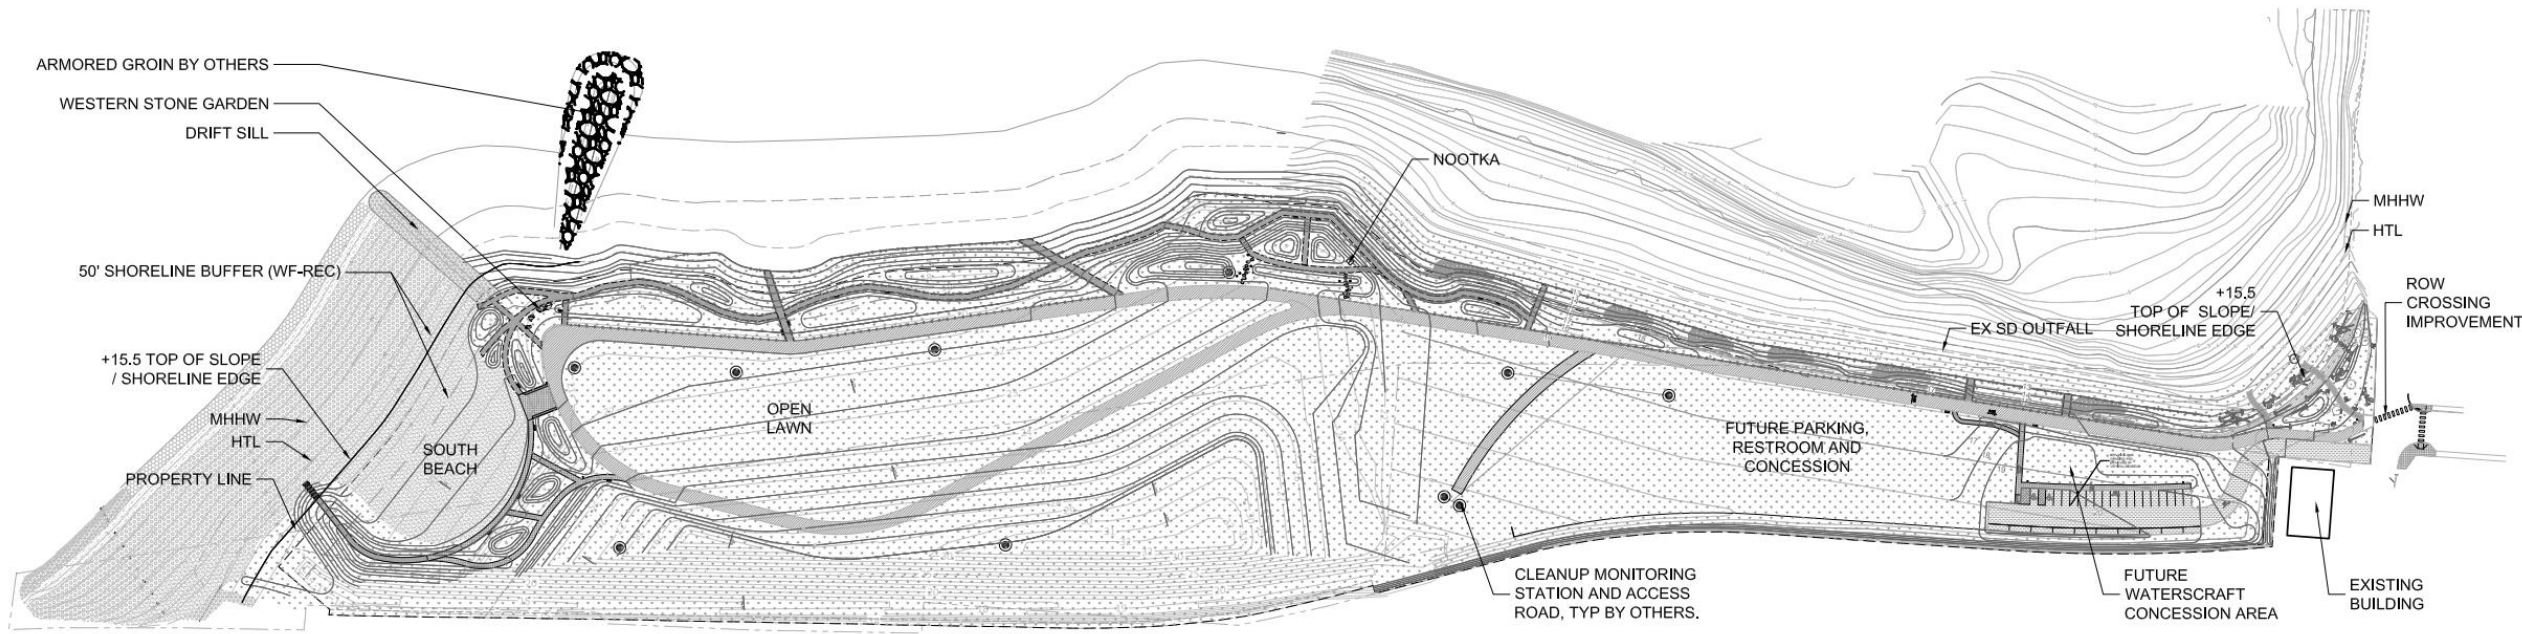

- 05 Parking Lot for 20 Cars w/ Entry Drive - $465,000
- 06 South Beach Drift Sill - $83,000
- 07 South Beach - $610,000
- 08 South Back Beach - $138,000
